

Satellite radio is great. We pay for the service because we want more music and less junk. We also want more types of music choices. As far as weather and traffic radio is concerned I change my channel to regular radio and tune in the local weather band because satellite radio does not broadcast my city. If it did, I would use that because the reception is better.